

FUNDED RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES

FOR NHS STAFF FROM RACIALLY MINORITISED GROUPS

The Equity in Doctoral Education through Partnership and Innovation (EDEPI) programme is looking for passionate and talented individuals to pursue original research and broaden their professional horizons through a part-time PhD programme.

EDEPI has partnered with NHS Trusts across Nottingham, Sheffield and Liverpool to offer fee-waived, part-time PhD places to eligible NHS staff to pursue research alongside their role. Our PhD programme is designed to enable staff from racially minoritised groups to set a new research agenda relevant to their experiences and to remove barriers to leadership roles within the NHS.

Are you a UK resident (eligible for home student fees) from a racially minoritised group working for one of our partner Trusts:

- Mersey Care NHS Foundation Trust
- Liverpool Women's NHS Foundation Trust
- Liverpool Heart and Chest Hospital NHS Foundation Trust
- Health Education England
- R&D Northwest
- Liverpool University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust
- Alder Hey Children's NHS Foundation Trust
- Mersey and West Lancashire Teaching Hospitals NHS Trust

Find out more and sign up for our 2025 workshops:

CONNECT WITH EDEPI

 edepi@ljamu.ac.uk

 www.ntu.ac.uk/edepi

 www.linkedin.com/in/edepi/

